

For trauma therapists who have already undergone or are about to take basic Accelerated Resolution Therapy training, Come Passion: The Soulful ART of Healing Trauma is so much more than an ART manual. Its focus isn't on the ART itself but on how the therapist can prepare the client and themselves for the sessions.

Come Passion is designed to enhance the ART therapist's work and help them refine their skills. In addition to providing the foundation therapists need, this mood disorders therapy workbook also offers practical tools, such as scripts and checklists, that can help streamline client sessions. It is the PTSD and complex PTSD recovery workbook therapists will return to again and again as they become more adept at helping their clients heal from their trauma-related wounds.

This book is a must read for any clinician interested in seeking a brief yet highly effective approach for treatment of psychological trauma and related comorbidities.

The Soulful ART of Healing Trauma

About Colleen E. Clark

Colleen E. Clark trains trauma therapists in Canada in Accelerated Resolution Therapy, or ART. Come Passion: The Soulful ART of Healing Trauma draws from her practical experience in delivering this therapy to enhance the work of ART therapists. It's part manual, part workbook with a focus on how to prepare both client and therapist for ART, showing how to help the client's healing journey from a position of compassion.

At last, an exquisitely written guidebook that provides information on what true trauma therapy is as well as a step-wise approach on how to do it through the lens of ART.

—Carol Gill, Chief Psychologist at Bowden Institution
