

Flying With Dad

A Daughter. A Father. And the Hidden Gifts in His Stories from World War II.

by Yvonne Caputo

Written with vivid detail, this encouraging, life-giving book is a tale of a World War II Veteran father and his daughter, who found the relationship with him she'd always longed for.

Do you have a family member who served in the military, who perhaps saw war, and wondered what their experience was really like? Do you suspect there are past traumas that might be affecting their ability to open up? Do you wish you could feel closer and more connected to your mom, dad, or other family members? If yes, Flying with Dad will pull you into a real-life story that shows you how.

In Flying With Dad, Yvonne Caputo charts her journey to her father through the re-telling of why he went from repairing planes to being a B-24 navigator in WWII, how heavy German flak led to post-war nightmares, and why he suffered years of guilt after one particular bombing run over Unterschlausersbach, Germany.

Over the years, Yvonne would ask her father questions about this past. She'd listen, pay attention, and found that he was paying attention to her as well. As she learned to meet him where he was, instead of where she wanted him to be, the result was an intimacy, a deep abiding respect, and a no-regrets final goodbye.

INGENIUM BOOKS

Paperback: 978-1-989059-29-6
5.5 x 8.5, 314 pages. Retail $19.99 US

Hardcover: 978-1-989059-31-9
6 x 9, 294 pages. Retail $29.99 US

Large Print: 978-1-989059-32-6
6.14 x 9.21, 492 pages. Retail $24.99

eBook: 978-1-989059-30-2
Retail $6.99

Wholesale discount available

Promotion

Social media campaign including influencer outreach
Social media advertising for launch and sustaining post-launch
Targeted keyword ad campaign
Author-led promotion activities, including guest podcast appearances and other interviews.

Flying with Dad is a heart-wrenching and heart-warming story of a daughter striving to understand her father and him opening up about the experiences that shapes so many soldiers and can get in the way of the rich relationships they and their children deserve.

"Highly recommended."
— Skybrief State Aviation Journal

"Engaging and thought-provoking from beginning to end ...an extraordinary and unreservedly recommended addition to both community and college/university library American Biography collections that will be of special interest to readers who come from military families."
—Helen Dumont, Midwest Book Reviews

"...a comfortable and comforting read."
— William L. Beigel, author, Buried on the Battlefield: Not My Boy

"...this superb book is a must read."
— David Hastings, former chair, Second Air Division Memorial Library

"Memory provoking for any baby boomer whose parent returned from action in World War II."
—Cdr. Clint Epley, (USN ret), Commemorative Air Force Central Texas Wing

Author Bio

Yvonne Caputo has been a teacher, head of HR in a retirement community, corporate trainer/consultant, and psychotherapist. She has a master's degree in education and in clinical psychology.

